

128 Station Road, Seven Hills NSW, Australia

Description

- 3 remaining strata units available for sale
- Units range from 230 sqm to 237 sqm
- Visit: www.thehubsevenhills.com.au

Location

The property forms part of the established industrial precinct of Seven Hills in Sydney's north west, which is situated some 10 kilometres north west of the Parramatta business district and approximately 32 kilometres by road north west of the Sydney GPO. This industrial area accommodates a broad spectrum of general industrial, manufacturing and warehouse type uses; and is becoming increasingly popular with smaller users seeking strata type accommodation. The land is zoned 4(a) "General Industrial" under the Blacktown LEP and lies within close proximity to the M2 Motorway. The completion of the Westlink M7 / M2 Motorway intersection at nearby Abbott Road has created significant impetus for redevelopment.
